

For a huge media company like Sinclair to INSIST that its affiliates air so partisan a film this close to the election is certainly crossing the line of good practice.

Solid democracy requires that good information be circulated to the electorate. The best way to insure the dissemination of accurate news and diverse views is to maintain the ownership of the media in many different hands.

I encourage the FCC to broaden the ownership pattern of broadcasting companies. Consolidation is something that will weaken this great nation of ours.

Thank you for your time and attention,
